This document is the Honor & Discipline Committee Bylaws Document. This document, referred to hereafter as the Bylaws, should be the primary working document used by students on the Honor & Discipline Committee while hearing and arbitrating cases. It will go through the workflow and duties of the committee, committee members, and student co-chairs. This document is designed to help Honor Committee members and students involved in the process understand the Committee’s procedures and help the Honor Committee come to equitable and just decisions. These bylaws shall be published to the entire student body. Any update to these bylaws shall be published to the student body.

This document will not offer precedents or suggestions to committee members on sanctions; it will simply detail the procedures involved in calling, hearing, and adjudicating cases before the Honor & Discipline Committee.

      1. A respondent can come to any member of the Committee with a suspected violation

3. For reasons of equity across the student body, suspected infractions must be taken to the Honor Committee and may not be dealt with by individual instructors

2. Upon hearing of a suspected violation, the Chairs must decide whether there is sufficient evidence to proceed

3. It is the responsibility of the Faculty Chair to advise members of the Williams Faculty whether or not the case they are bringing has sufficient evidence

4. Cases are typically reported within the semester that the course was taken, but in the event that a faculty member discovers an alleged violation after the semester, it must be reported by the last day of the full term following the term in which the course was taken

2. Prior to the meeting Members of the Committee will be asked if any member of the committee has a significant reason to doubt their ability to consider the case fairly.
   1. They may be asked to be recused.
   2. Acquaintance or friendship with a participant alone are not grounds for recusal; the Chairs will need to hear strong and convincing reasons.
   3. The Chairs will decide on any such request.

3. Prior to the meeting occurring the Chairs will decide whether the meeting will be held in person or on Zoom.

4. In preparation for the hearing the Dean’s Office will have prepared sufficient copies of all written evidence for Members of the Committee and the Respondent.

5. The Respondent has the right and responsibility to present any relevant evidence.

   1. This includes both the Respondent, the Complainant, and students named as witnesses
   2. In their capacity, deans can provide space for students to talk out how they plan to speak to the hearing body and also to get support resources while they are waiting for a determination for the case.
   3. If students wish to have dean support, it is very important that students notify their dean immediately in order to plan for scheduling.

9. Hearing Procedures - Presentations
   1. The Honor Committee must have at least three-quarters of Student Members on campus at the time of the hearing. If fewer than five student members can be present at a hearing, both the Respondent and the Dean must agree to proceed with the hearing.
   2. Zoom procedures
      1. No other persons, besides the Respondent, Complainant, and Witness, shall be in the room while a Witness, Respondent, and Complainant are being questioned
      2. The Advisor of whichever person is being questioned may be in the Zoom call during their testimony, or physically present with them in their room while they give their testimony.
      3. The Advisors of the Respondent and the Complainant may also be present at any points where the Respondent and Complainant are present.
4. No other persons should be physically present in the rooms of a Respondent or Witness during a Committee meeting.

3. In person procedures
   1. The Respondent and Complainant, along with their Advisors are physically present along with members of the Committee presiding.
   2. Additional witnesses are sequestered from one another, along with their Advisors, and then leave once they have given their testimony.
   3. At the end of the Respondent’s presentation, the Complainant and their Advisor will leave, and the Respondent will make any final remark.

4. The Reporter presents their evidence and explains why they suspect an Honor Code violation
   1. Members of the Committee, as well as the Respondent may ask questions for clarification at any point in the presentation.
   2. After the presentation Members of the Committee and the Respondent may ask any additional questions.

   1. They are brought in one at a time.
   2. Then questioned first by the committee and then by the Respondent student.

9. Once questions have been asked and answered, the Reporter and any remaining witnesses leave the hearing

10. The Respondent may address the committee or answer any final questions.

11. When finished, the Respondent leaves the room

10. Hearing Procedures - Deliberations

1. The committee then deliberates over three questions:
   1. Is there a preponderance of evidence that the alleged behavior constitutes an infraction of the Honor Code?
   2. If it does, is there a preponderance of evidence that the Respondent student committed the infraction?
   3. If they did, what sanction is recommended to the Dean of the College?

2. All members of the committee can take part in these deliberations

3. Only student members vote on matters before the committee

4. All members shall have access to a set of precedents from prior years that show cases with aggravating and mitigating factors

5. Student Members will vote on these three questions in order.

6. The first two questions (10.a.i and 10.a.ii) may be considered in aggregate by either committee consensus or the direction of a Chair.

7. The first two questions may also be considered in aggregate for a group of students, in cases where the suspected violation is near identical.

8. The two votes require a majority to pass.

9. At any point a voting member may call the question, which requires a ¾ majority to pass
1. If this passes, the question under consideration is immediately taken to a vote (10.a.i, 10.a.ii, or 10.a.iii respectively)

11. Hearing Procedures-Sanctions

   1. If the student members vote yes on the first two questions for a specific suspected violation, they must then assign a sanction to the student

   2. Committee members should consider the severity of the violation, and sanction the respondent accordingly, considering the impact on the campus community

   3. When considering a sanction, student members should consider whether the Respondent student (who has now been found to have violated the Honor Code) previously violated the Honor Code

   4. To sanction, students vote going from the least severe to the most severe

   5. Voting yes on a sanction means a student member believes that the infraction at least warrants the sanction in question, but not whether it warrants a higher sanction

   6. Following the initial sanctions, two additional sanctions may be considered; these are both considered additive and are voted on subsequent to the first sanction

12. Possible Sanctions

   • Warning:

      1. A warning is intended to educate the student about the Honor Code and community standards, and to serve as notice that continuation or repetition of prohibited conduct may be cause for additional disciplinary action. A warning does not become part of the student's permanent record. Students who receive a warning can answer negatively if they are asked if they have been subject to College discipline. A warning remains in a student's file until graduation, when it is removed.

   • Failure in the Assignment:
1. The student will automatically receive an F for the assignment in which the infraction was committed. This sanction does not automatically become part of the student's permanent record unless it is accompanied by disciplinary probation or suspension. Students who receive this sanction can answer negatively if they are asked if they have been subject to College discipline. Notation of the hearing outcome remains in a student's file until graduation, when it is removed.

- Failure in the course:

1. The student will automatically receive an F for the course in which the infraction was committed. This sanction does not automatically become part of the student's permanent record unless it is accompanied by disciplinary probation or suspension. Students who receive this sanction can answer negatively if they are asked if they have been subject to College discipline. The failing grade will appear as an E on the academic transcript. Notation of the hearing outcome remains in a student's file until graduation, when it is removed.

Suspension:

1. Separation from the College, and exclusion from College premises, and from other privileges and activities. Readmission to the College after the term of suspension is not automatic but requires an application to the Dean of College. This sanction becomes part of the student's permanent record, and remains on file for seven years. Students who receive this sanction must answer affirmatively if they are asked if they have been subject to College discipline. Subsequent violation of the Honor Code will normally result in suspension or expulsion from the College. As a general matter, parents/guardians are notified about suspension.

● Expulsion:

1. Permanent termination of student status, and exclusion from College premises, privileges, and activities. This sanction becomes part of the student's permanent record, and remains on file permanently. Students who receive this sanction must answer affirmatively if they are asked if they have been subject to College discipline. As a general matter, parents/guardians are notified about expulsion.

● Other Actions:

1. In addition to or in place of the above actions, the hearing panel may assign such other penalties, as it deems appropriate.

2. Additive Sanctions

● Mandatory educational tutorial:

1. This Instructional material is designed to educate students about the importance of academic integrity, and to serve as a guide for proper practices around collaboration, citation, quotation, and more. This educational sanction does not become part of the student's permanent record. Students who receive this sanction can answer negatively if they are asked if they have been subject to College discipline. Notation of an educational requirement remains in a student's file until graduation, when it is removed. Students who fail to complete the tutorial by the end of the semester in which the infraction occurred will automatically be placed on disciplinary probation.
2. The student members may vote to impose this additive sanction in addition to whatever other sanction it deems appropriate

- A drop in the overall course grade by a percentage determined by the committee:
  1. The student will automatically receive a percentage decrease in grade for the course in which the infraction was committed. This sanction does not automatically become part of the student's permanent record unless it is accompanied by disciplinary probation or suspension. Students who receive this sanction can answer negatively if they are asked if they have been subject to College discipline. Notation of the hearing outcome remains in a student's file until graduation, when it is removed.
  2. Following the first vote on a sanction, student members may vote to impose 13.b
  3. If this is imposed, a procedure similar to 11.d is implemented.
  4. Student members start with the lowest possible sanction; a third grade reduction (From A to A-, A- to B+, B+ to B, etc.)
  5. Student members or chairs may also call for a specific grade reduction, which may then be voted on
  6. Voting yes on a grade drop means a student member believes that the infraction at least warrants the grade drop in question, but not whether it warrants a higher sanction

2. Disciplinary probation:
   1. To be assigned for a specified period of time. This sanction becomes part of the student's permanent record, and remains on file for seven years. Students who receive this sanction must answer affirmatively if they are asked if they have been subject to College discipline. Subsequent violation of the Honor Code will normally result in suspension or expulsion from the College. The student meets regularly with a dean during the probationary period. As a general matter, parents/guardians are notified about disciplinary probation.

Disciplinary Hearing
1. A respondent may be called before the committee as a result of misconduct that is not academic or sexual
2. This is referred to as social misconduct
3. Once a disciplinary case has been referred to the honor and discipline committee it is considered formal
4. At this point two student members and two faculty members will be asked to form a hearing committee along with two members of the Dean’s Office
5. They will hear the case according to the same procedures as outlined above in 9 & 10, however all members of the committees vote on determining whether there has been a social misconduct violation and determining what sanction is appropriate

Appeal Process
1. The Respondent may request a reconsideration of the Committee’s decision on the basis of substantial new evidence or improper procedures
2. A request for reconsideration must be made in writing to one or both of the Chairs within a week of the Committee’s decision, or the decision is considered accepted
3. The request for reconsideration will only be granted if a majority of the Committee members who heard the case agree
4. The Committee may choose to reconsider either the case in its entirety or just one or more aspects of the case, and in doing so may receive or review any information it determines is relevant to the reconsideration
5. Following its reconsideration, the Committee will refer its decision to the Dean for the Dean’s action, if any, as appropriate
6. After a rehearing, the Dean’s decision is permanent. The student does not have any right to contest the rehearing’s decision and sanction

End of Year Report
1. At the end of each year, the Committee Chairs will produce an anonymized report of previous cases heard by the Committee throughout the year, documenting the facts of the case and the Committee’s voting and thinking.
